WELCOME HOME

WARTBURGERS TAKE PART IN CENSUS

During the week of October 7-13, Wartburg College Parish Workers, Social Workers, and Pre-Theological students participated in a house-to-house canvass and took a religious census of Iowa.

Fourteen teams of Knights were responsible for Waverly's Fifth Word, which included everything west of Seventh Street, Northwest and Southwest.

"The data obtained," according to Dr. Martin Wiederaenders, chairman of the Fifth Ward, "will be used in an intensified evangelization campaign throughout the State."

Results of each house call were entered in duplicate on mimeographed forms; one was kept for local churches and the other was sent to the Iowa State College at Ames, where the information will be further analysed.

These reports will be made available to every local church group; each group may use the information individually, as it sees fit.

The Reverend W. C. T. Hawtrey of Waverly, chairman of the Bremer County Census, pointed out to the college at Monday convocation on October 1, that this census, sponsored by the Local Ministerial Association, was the first of its kind, and will provide a valuable aid for future work.

A conference on English in the Iowa Colleges was held at Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, October 6, 1945.

Henry Schliesser ('43) wrote his ship was in Tokyo Bay in Admiral Halsey's Third Fleet from Aug. 27th until the signing of the peace on Sept. 2. It was anchored in the same herth as was Commodore Perry's flagship some 92 years ago.

As usual the half will be very colorful and entertaining. At this time the Waverly high school band will maneuver on the field. We will also see one of the results of Kangaroo court. Audrey Matthias will push Donald Bork in a baby buggy across the football field. And then the big event comes with a tug of war between twenty-five upperclassmen and twenty-five freshmen. "WELCOME HOME!"

The theme of this year's Homecoming gives evidence to the truth that the Wartburg College Homecoming is planned to a great extent for alumni and former students of Wartburg.

We like to see all of the friends of Wartburg back on the campus. We are filling the places here that you filled when you went to school at Clinton, St. Paul, Hebron, or Waverly. Wartburg means the same thing to us that it meant to you. It is only natural for you to want to come back to your school and the friends you made while attending it.

We hope that you will find what you are looking for as you return to the "college of our brightest days." May you enjoy your weekend here with the hundreds of past and present Wartburgers. On behalf of the student body of today, "Welcome Home!" L.E.R.

HERE AT HOME

For a great number of you students this will be the first large-scale Homecoming you have ever attended or have taken part in. The upperclassmen know what fun it is to be a part of the talent show; to witness the coronation of the queen you elected; to sing and cheer at the blazing bonfire; to yell until you're hoarse while on the snake dance; to sing, at the game, the loyalty song until you're bubbling over with pep and you feel the team can't help but win; to be inspired to greater achievements at the banquet and worship on Sunday. All these things—yes—and many countless little things make Homecoming!

Upperclassmen will perhaps have a slight advantage over you "freshies." The time has finally arrived for the return of all those who have made Wartburg College their home in past years. However, don't let that stop you from making your place in Homecoming festivities!

Don't miss that feeling of fellowship; that underlying current of good will; that inspiration for better Homecomings. Last, but not least, make them feel "welcome here at home." J.J.S.

PROUDLY PRESENTING

We, the staff of the 1945-46 Wartburg Trumpet proudly present to you, its readers, our six-page Homecoming edition. This Trumpet is not an ordinary one—far from it. It is our Homecoming edition, and it is our first six-page issue.

Homecoming is the theme of this paper. From the news, through the editorials, to the sports—from front to back—it is flavored with "Welcome Home!" We have 1500 copies of this edition. Our paid subscription list is nearing the 500 mark for the first time in the history of Wartburg College. Extra copies will be on sale on the campus during Homecoming weekend. We invite friends of Wartburg who have not yet subscribed to the Trumpet to do so. It is a great paper!

This six-page edition represents inspiration, cooperation, hard work, sweat, sleepless nights, and even tears. We had hoped to have a six-page paper two weeks ago, but at the last minute, with our goal in sight, our hopes were dashed to the ground. Now our dream has come true, thanks to the combined efforts of sixty-five loyal staff members, plus the gracious cooperation of the Waverly business men who are advertising in it.

We present it to you, students and friends of Wartburg. May it add something to your Homecoming weekend if you are here, and may it be a partial substitute if you are unable to be here! THE STAFF

Library Corner

One of the most outstanding new books on our shelves is the Westminster Historical Atlas to the Bible by George Wright. It contains many new archaeological reports and has used the latest method of map reproduction; it has 33 maps in full color with indexes to all Biblical sites. Added to this, are many photographs of the Holy Land and recent archaeological discoveries. Its maps cover the time from the Patriarchs to modern Palestine. This book will be most helpful to anyone desiring to become better acquainted with the Holy Land, its geography and history.

Another book we have received is Audubon's Birds of America, containing reproductions from the original drawings of John James Audubon. This book with its full-page color reproduction illustrates 435 different birds.

The new World Almanac and Book of Facts for 1945 has also arrived. This book, one of the most valuable references in the library contains all the latest statistics and reports on the war, foreign nations, U. S., population, election returns and sporting events.

The Dictionary of American Politics by Smith and Zurche gives the latest definitions and explanations of words pertaining to American politics and public affairs. Included also, are the administrative establishments of the government which have come in during this wartime emergency.

AWAIT GO-AHEAD

Plans are being made for improvements on the Men's Chapel in Grossmann Hall, and the administration is waiting for the "Go-ahead" signal from the church.

Art-glass windows will be included among the alterations. Cost for each window will be about $100. Friends of Wartburg are now being solicited for funds for the changes.

The Board of Regents will meet on October 23 to hold its semi-annual meeting. It is then that the go-ahead sign is looked for.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Waverly, Iowa
October 11th, 1945

Dear Larry:

I believe we have as fine a bunch of cheerleaders as you will find anywhere in the country. I also believe we could have as good an athletic program if the student body would get behind them.

At the Central pep meeting I was very much disappointed in the way the student body turned out. I believe this was one of the factors which caused Wartburg to lose the game. How can we expect the townspeople of Waverly to back our athletic program if we ourselves do not.

The fact is if we would get behind our team and think up some new yells, we would not only have the best cheerleaders, but also the best athletic program for miles around.

We are a small school, but a small group that's united can work wonders. Let's go!

Yours for more spirit,
Fritz N.

Spend Homecoming week-end here on the campus.

QUIPS & QUIRKS
the editor's desk

The band has taken the first step toward the obtaining of uniforms. This undoubtedly marks the beginning of bigger and better things for the organization.

Q's & Q's

Take note of the first letter to the editor for a long time. More of them will be welcome.

Q's & Q's

There certainly was a nice large group of Wartburg fans at the Dubuque U. game yesterday.

Q's & Q's

Orchids to the Homecoming committees. Their work is thankless, yet they put their hearts into it.

Q's & Q's

It seems nice not to have to decide which article goes into the Trumpet and which stays out for this issue. Our thanks to the Waverly business men for helping us out.

Q's & Q's

Our subscription gamble seems to have paid off. Last year the campaign sold about 150 subscriptions off the campus. This year, with the help of the students, we have sold nearly 250 subscriptions off the campus.

Q's & Q's

Word came from several old grads giving comment on our first issue. It's letters like that which help us along and aid us in turning out a better Trumpet.

Q's & Q's

Wartburg is right on the beam as far as returning G. I.'s are concerned. At present there are six enrolled here.

Q's & Q's

Let's have a little more pep at the games. We have a good, hard-working team, and the fellows really appreciate knowing that you're behind them!

The missionary expects to land first at Australia where he will receive his assignment.

Pastor Brandt graduated from Wartburg College in 1941, took the regular theological course at Wartburg Seminary at Dubuque, completed a year's internship at Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, and then returned to Wartburg Seminary for a missionary training course.

Missionary Brandt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brandt of Denver, Iowa, and is a brother of Darlene Brandt, who attended Wartburg College from 1941 to 1943.

Another Wartburg alumnus to work in the same mission field is the Rev. Martin Heist, son of Prof. E. G. Heist of the Wartburg music faculty. Missionary Heist will leave in a month.

Religious News and Views

By RUDOLF MARTENS

Rethinking the Christian College

Recently, the Christian Century carried an article which should be of interest to every educated person, and especially to us here at a truly Christian college. Perhaps we should examine the ways in which our college fits into the plan and concepts of the article. The author, W. B. Easton, Jr. points out that, "the postwar era will offer opportunity to break new ground in several directions," and warns that the failure to do so will end in catastrophe. He argues that while many tax-supported institutions evince great interest in religion, the true sound Christian education must be given by "those colleges which still call themselves Christian." The question is not how to get more religion into colleges but how to get more Christianity. The aim of a school like ours should be, "primarily concerned with the Protestant interpretation of the Christian faith, which we believe to be the true interpretation." There is no substitute for Christianity. Fortunately, we students here at Wartburg have a Christianity emphasis which offers numerous courses, all of which stress our unchangeable convictions in the faith that our forefathers died for.

The author describes the conflict that exists between Christian education and a "liberal arts" education. The latter seems to be constantly pursuing the truth and stands opposed in many ways to the revealed truth of the Christian religion. Mr. Easton points out that in this truth, "other truths must find their meaning." Although, I cannot agree with all that is said I feel that an interesting fact is presented which traces the way in which Christianity "becomes a department and a fragment of the college picture." No matter how important that fragment may be, it still remains a fragment.

May God grant that in the "Greater Wartburg," there will continue to be men who will teach the pure, unadulterated truths of Holy Writ, and that Christianity will always be the foundation and the structure of that institution. We can, we must, and we will stop the questioning of the power of revealed truth. What is written, is written, and cannot be altered. "Scripture cannot be broken." John 10:35.

Significantly, the writer urges that all departments and courses must have a unifying factor. Philosophy and metaphysical ideas have failed and the author calls upon Christian colleges to make theology the unifying principles. It must be well noted that a Christian college is a college that makes every department support and defend the Christian faith. Continuing, an attempt is made to have even the faculty of a Christian school study theology so that they will all work together in teaching the truth.

"The number of compulsory courses should be greatly increased," urges the author. Three Christianity courses are listed as being necessary: Bible Church History and Christian Theology. Here again I am surprised at how well our college fills "the bill" in that the first two courses are taught here in the light of the beliefs of the American Lutheran Church. While it is true that we do not have a definite course in theology, nevertheless more than the equivalent can be obtained through courses in Christian Fundamentals, Modern Thinking, Ethics, etc. In comparison to many other institutions which call themselves "Christian" Wartburg firmly stands as a beacon attesting to the faith of old, based upon the Holy Scriptures, God's immutable word.

On the other hand, I as a student here at Wartburg, feel that despite the fact that we already have an excellent group of courses in Christianity, we should and must expand them further. More time should be expended in teaching the Bible so that a deeper insight into the unfathomable truths be reached. In the word of God, and only there, will we and mankind as a whole find the only source of light which is able to guide us through the dark days before us.

Chapel Notes

Men's Chapel

Grossman-North Hall Chapels have been in charge of Albert Meyer and Harold Schmidt. Mr. Meyer called to our attention the five Christian principles used in living a Christian life: 1. We must keep the cross of Christ before us at all times; 2. We must love him who first loved us; 3. We must have partnership or fellowship with our Heavenly Father; 4. We should seek to know our Holy Father's will; 5. We should lead a Christian life. His second address dealt with conscience. Mr. Meyer pointed out that by constantly striving to do the Lord's will and constantly seeking his guidance—we may have a conscience judging our deeds in such a way that we will—find that peace of His which passes all understanding. Basing his last devotion upon the story of Canaan, Mr. Meyer showed us the value of simple, saving faith which often must be brought upon us through trials.

Mr. H. Schmidt based his devotion upon the question which the disciples asked their Lord, "Lord, teach us to pray." In spite of their many months with Jesus, they still could not grasp his prayer. Today also we must be careful of how we pray. We can take examples from the prophets and the apostles of the Bible as well as from Christ himself. We must always remember that we should pray from our hearts, but let God determine whether or not our prayer shall be answered.

Children's Home

The first Sunday evening devotion held in the Children's Home was conducted on October 7 by Albert Meyer with Ehm Osterbuhr as his assistant. Mr. Meyer explained to his youthful audience the necessity of making and keeping the proper friends even among the people mentioned in the Bible, especially Jesus because he is yet living. Mr. Osterbuhr led the children in an appropriate prayer and sang a solo for them.

Luther Hall

The joint-church devotion on October 2 was led by Miss Dorothy Helmbrecht. With Margaret Fritschel's piano accompaniment, Betty Plehm sang "O Lord Most Holy." Using Genesis 5:24 as her text, Miss Helmbrecht emphasized our active Christian life. She said that we must not let our earthly desires overshadow our service for God.

Raymond Wolf was in charge of the Friday Convo on October 5. The selection "Eye Hath Not Seen" was sung by Lois Landdeck. Mr. Wolf stressed the fact that we are our brother's keeper. It is our duty to serve our fellow men in any and all ways possible.

On Tuesday, October 8, Mr. Laverne Streich directed joint Chapel. Having chosen his text from Act. 4:19-20 he spoke of our faith in witnessing for Christ. It is those practices in which we indulge which can make or break our faith. The speaker asked for God's help in spreading freedom of religion across the face of this world.

E. S. JONES COMING

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, internationally known missionary, lecturer and author, will be heard at Wartburg College during the last week of October.

The story of Dr. Jones' life work begins with an unreligious boy of 17, who was so impressed by a sermon he heard that he decided to study for the ministry.

Upon graduation from Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., at the age of 23, he went to India as a missionary of the Methodist Episcopal church. For eight years he served as pastor of the English church at Lucknow, where his work was largely with the low caste Indians.

A Hindu official once asked why he worked only with the low caste, and Dr. Jones replied that he didn't think the higher castes were interested. The Hindu told him he was mistaken, and that the high castes needed him right away. Thus Dr. Jones' work among the educated of India began.

Working with Gandhi, the great Indian leader, Dr. Jones asked him what should be done to naturalize Christianity in India. Gandhi told him three things were necessary: that the Christian missionaries should live more like Jesus Christ; that they should practice the principles of Christianity without adulterating the principles; and that they must study the non-Christian faiths to have a sympathetic understanding of the Indian people. On these three principles Dr. Jones built his successful program among the Indians.

"Abundant Living" a daily devotional booklet in India, "The Choice Before Us;" "The Kingdom of God as the Alternative to Both Fascism and Communism," "The Christ of the Mount," "A working Philosophy of Life," and "The Christ of the American Road," are among the widely-read books he has written.

Dr. Jones is now a lecturer and preacher in America. Thousands have heard him in person and over the radio. He was elected Bishop of Methodist Episcopal Churches of America in 1928 but resigned to continue missionary work. He received his Master of Arts degree from Asbury College, and his Doctor of Divinity degree from Duke University.

The four legged quadruped from Australia who presides once a year at Wartburg's court has come and gone. Yes, he has hopped on and many freshman heaved a sigh of relief. Why they sigh is not hard to find out, for if you would have been here to see the good-mannered, soft-spoken freshman last week, you would have realized what I mean. The beautiful girls (nauseating wouldn't be a good word to use) and the chic boys (I couldn't use crummy) running around here with elongated faces would also prove my point. But Friday, initiation came to a climax with Kangaroo court. The offenders were very happy to find that the jury was unbiased and was composed of very liberal-minded upperclassmen. (I could add here that the jury used the "Board of Education" quite liberally").

The honorable Edward Fritschel presided with "Jake" Jacober acting as Prosecuting Attorney for the Sophomore class.

Charges pressed were very numerous and also extensive (by extensive I mean they ran from intending to bring your twin brother's twin).

Some of the charges and sentences were very notable. Eating chocolate pie is a wonderful pastime they say. (We know, don't we girls). Ribbeler was probably suffering from Root Beer jitus Sunday morning. Mundt had his arithmetic lesson Saturday night and probably knows full well the definition of "rivet." Lundstrom, is the cemetery lovely at night? Miss Miller, it is too bad they didn't give you a ring of honey and let you measure the center circle.

But three cheers go to crooner Osterhuir who took his noon day shower in the fountain Tuesday noon.

People of Waverly:" Did you notice the Indians and robbers in town Saturday night, or were you one of those who received a valuable article passed out in front of the theater with the compliments of the Freshman class?

Anyone who reads this and might be around here next year take notice! We freshmen are getting ideas and are they whoppers! Correct Freshmen?

When a discussion of the Mohammedans' heaven came up in history class, the teacher gave this description of the same something like this, "Green grass, shade trees, cool sparkling waters, refreshing breezes, plenty to eat and drink and plenty of women." A freshman heaved a long low sigh. Whether he was hoping or just reminiscing, we shall never know. A freshman can dream can't he?

A poem dedicated to the Romeos and Juliets of Wartburg:

We entered cupid's garden,
We wandered o'er the land,
The moon was shining brightly,
I held her little . . . shawl.

Yes, I held her little shawl,
How fast the evening flies!
We spoke in tones so tender,
As I gazed into her—lunch basket.

I gaze into the basket,
And wished I had a taste,
There sat my lovely charmer
My arm around her—umbrella.

Embracing her umbrella,
That charming little miss,
Her eyes were full of mischief,
As I shyly stole a—sandwich.

BEST BROUGHT OUT IN FRESHMEN

October I through 6 was "Freshman Week" at Wartburg College. Sophomore class rules resulted in very freakish specimens among members of the freshman class. Above are a group of informal scenes around the campus during the course of the week, showing a cross section of what went on.

A Letter Today

For two weeks I had daily trudged to Old Main to see if I had a letter. Always an empty mail-box stared me in the face, until yesterday. Yesterday, a miracle happened. There was a large yellow letter lying in my box. Hastily I tore open the envelope and began reading:

My dear friend,

With pencil in hand I thought I would sit down to write you a letter while standing. Pardon the pen and ink.

We don't get to see one another very often anymore. We live so far together. I wish we were closer apart.

I started over to see you the other day. I was half way to New York City when I remembered you live in St. Louis. I saw a sign that said, "this takes you to St. Louis." I jumped up and sat on the sign for two hours, but the old thing just wouldn't move. So, I didn't get to see you.

We are awfully good around here, 'cept Cousin Ann and Aunt Willie. Cousin Ann has the mumps and is having a "swell" time. And dear old Aunt Willie is nigh unto the door of death. We are boping the doctor will pull her through.

The weather is pleasing. It's 105 degrees in the shade, and the snow is falling lightly.

Well I must close now and prepare my dinner. No one is around anymore. The little white men called for the last one yesterday. Goodness, I'm glad that I'm normal.

With affectionateness,
Harky

P. S. The time is exactly 7:21½ p. m. You may set your watch now.

COLLEGE BAND HEADED FOR GOOD YEAR

All indications show that this year will be a big one for the Wartburg Band according to Norman Langholz, president. The majority of last year's members have returned, and with additions from the freshman class, the band will probably consist of forty pieces.

The president of the band has announced that plans for securing uniforms are being discussed and that, for the present, temporary uniforms will be used. The band will also practice formations. This will enable the band to perform at Homecoming football and basketball games, and other college festivals that are held in Waverly.

The band will also attend one of the football games and one of the basketball games which the Knights play away from home. All these activities, along with the regular convocation concerts, will keep the band pretty busy, stated Mr. Langholz.

The German Band will again be organized, and it will entertain the college students in convocation during the year, as well as visiting and performing at high schools.

Bill Hansen ('45) Seaman 2nd class, happily surprised us last week with a short visit. He reported back to Great Lakes with the O. G. U. (Outgoing unit.)

YOU CAN'T WIN

If you smile at him, he thinks you're flirting.

If you don't flirt, he thinks you're an iceberg.

If you let him kiss you, he wishes you were more reserved.

If you don't, he'll seek consolation elsewhere.

If you flatter him, he thinks you're simple.

If you don't, he thinks you don't understand him.

If you talk of love and romance, he thinks you're asking him to marry you.

If you're a good girl, he wonders why you're not human.

If you return his caress, he doesn't want you to.

If you let him make love to you, he thinks you are cheap.

If you don't, he'll go with a girl who will.

If you go out with other fellows, he thinks you are fickle.

If you don't, he thinks no one will have you.

Men, bless them—they don't know what they want.

From The Heart Spring The Sweetest Words Of Man

Wartburg is one of the few colleges in the United States that has more men than women enrolled. After several years of unblemished happiness—they could be choosy—the men are coming to the end of their rope. Some of them get desperate. They try to buy cars, win letters at athletics, and the like.

Why, some of them even go so far as to write poetry. They can no longer keep the feeling of love within their hearts. It bubbles out all over. Some of them turn to poetry—the voice of love.

The other day in Greek class, neatly folded, lay o sheet of notebook paper. Under closer observation it proved to be a bearer of words of apparent adoration. It was dedicated to one of our freshman beauties, may they join us every year. Here it is. Budding poets take notice.

SWENSEN, BECKER IN CONVOS

A variety of programs was presented in convocation in the past two-week period. Mr. Eugene Jobst, graduate of Concordia Theological Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., spoke on the "Will of God," on September 26, basing his thoughts on the Epistle to the Thessalonians 4.

God is not a God of our personal physical safety, the speaker pointed out. His Will is of three kinds: intentional will, circumstantial will, and ultimate will. Whatever befalls one in temptation or trouble, is a part of this ultimate will, tempered by his circumstantial will. A Christian must faithfully believe in God's will or he would not despair.

Religious census for Waverly was explained by the Rev. W. C. T. Hawtrey of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Waverly, during convocation on October 1. He said that the Church, if it is to see itself as others see it, must take a census of Church membership and affiliation to form a basis for evangelization work. Statistics show that the most unchurched live either on the outskirts of large cities or in the rural areas. Only 52% of the population of the United States belongs to any church. The census takers took to the road Sunday, October 6.

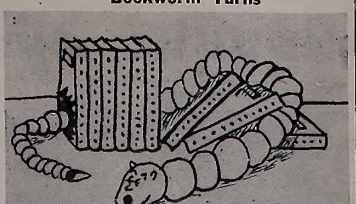
"The Life of Pvt. John Smith" or "What It Feels Like to be a G. I. Joe" was a motion picture presented at the October 2 convocation. This overument release was part of the "This Is America" series.

An answer to the question, "Have I Chosen the Right College?" was given in the affirmative by Dr. A. W. Swensen of the Chemistry Department at Wednesday's convocation. Comparing religious life at the State University of Iowa, Iowa City, with religious life here, the speaker showed conclusively that Wartburg's religious program is not provincial or small-schoolish. The president and the entire university faculty are active in church affairs; the dean of women and the university treasurer are Lutheran.

The students participate actively in their respective denomination's study groups. Most significant of all, perhaps, is the daily Matin service which is broadcasted at 8:15 o'clock over station WSUI. Students at Wartburg may thus attend simultaneously worship life with life in larger universities.

A hymn-sing on Monday began convocation programs for the week of October 8-13, with Dr. John Hiltner leading. Scriptural passages on the light of the world were read, correlating with the singing of the hymns, "Now the

Bookworm Turns



Dear Readers:

Ho hum! That was really quite a sleep I had this summer. But it does seem good to stretch around once more and see what is going on here in my private little domain. Did I say private? This little library book just doesn't seem very private, though, with so many people buzzing in and out of here. Maybe I should move out of this book and into something quieter, say like a history book. Since I really don't enjoy being disturbed, I'm not going to try to find a home in any of the following new books, for they're certainly going to see action: Harvard Dictionary of Music; History and Criticism of American Public Address; The Bible and the Common Reader, Chase; Journals of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg; The Shape of Books to Come, Adams; and Report on the Russians, White. I did notice a few new novels here on my shelves too. Among those were A Lion Is in the Streets, Langley; and Canoe country, Jaques.

You know, with about 200 students in and out of here, I feel awfully strange. It seems rather good to peer out between the pages and see some of our "old" librarians back. Notice that Elyda Tau Fricke, Irma Gehl, Dot Voigt, Alpha Strempke, Connie Schumacher, and Cliff Dirksen are all back on the job. Some rather unfamiliar ones are behind the desk this year too—Gertrude Brokering, Winnifred Kumpf, Jeanette Zemke, and Heckie Hoffner. All I can say is, that I hope they don't decide to do too much moving. This housing situation is really bad. Just ask some of the girls!

Goodness, but it's cold in here these days. I'm just going to have to stop this conversation now. My teeth are chattering like mad. Well, so long till I crawl out again.

The bookworm.

shades of night are gone," "Dayspring of Eternity," and "Holy Ghost with Light Divine."

President Becker led convocation on Tuesday, speaking on "Religion of the Lowlands." Everyone has mountain-top experiences of inspiration, the speaker pointed out, but everyday life and duty is spent in the lowlands, where grossness, sorrow, and temptation abound. Christians must translate their spiritual mountain-top experiences into daily life and make them applicable to the tasks of life in the lowlands.

KNIGHTS TO REMEMBER

So many marriages have recently taken place that the editor of this column is contemplating on changing the heading to "Matrimonial News." Jean Gold ('45) and Gerhardt Diemer were married September 9, at Alice, Texas. They plan to make their home in Chicago soon.

Wedding bells rang out in Des Moines September 7 for Darlene Smith ('41) and Harold Tesch ('Jan. '42). Harold is now a senior at Wartburg Seminary in Dubuque.

LaVerne Strempke ('42) and Rev. Harry Silef were joined in holy matrimony at Akron, Iowa, on June 3.

Of the '45 graduates, the following are teaching in the respective grades:

Lois Pilgrim—4th and 5th grades at Jubilee, Iowa.

Dorothy Faber—2nd grade at Waverly, Iowa.

Irene Knehler—rural school at Eureka, South Dakota.

Irene Schmidt—rural school at Marietta, Minnesota.

Joyce Martens ('43) is teaching Home Economics in the New Virginiana, Iowa High School.

Greta Mersch is swinging the hickory stick in an Ottumwa school.

Sgt. Robert Mueller ('42) is now stationed in Marsuilles, France, after being in France for two years.

Roland Buechler ('45) is now stationed in San Diego.

James Hughes ('43) was ordained on September 2 at Strawberry Point and united in marriage with Ruth Schlueter ('42) on September 7.

Margaret Loseke ('45) is attending Iowa U. Medical School.

Lorin Homann ('43) of Fredericia is back home once again after being in a prison camp for six months. Welcome back, Lorin!

Freshman Week-Ha!

"Freshman Week"—I had heard about it, but I didn't quite realize what it held in store for me.

I didn't mind wearing a green hat all day long or standing in line at the dining hall until the upperclassmen were in; but, when it came to washing my hair in hard water, using no makeup, and no jewelry I was completely at a loss, or so I had thought until more crazy rules set up specifically for the poor freshmen, were resting heavily upon my shoulders. Imagine seeing an army of scarecrows walking all the way around the campus. Honestly I didn't look much better, for my hair stood out like a stewsack and my face looked as though it needed a retread. Wearing black stocking with green ribbons tied neatly around the ankles looked liked early Quakers, but at least I didn't have to wash my hose every night. Somehow I know that the ruffles I now have must be due to the fact that I am no longer obliged to wear those scratchy wool hose. Yes, from now on you can just call me "no fuss, no bother, no nothing!"

All the fellows needed was a high stiff collar and they would have been ready for a short vacation at Independence playing the role of the eighteenth century dream boy.

Mom really loves me since I sent my dirty pillow cases home for repairs—all damage was incurred after a day or so of slinging it around with books, pencils and other things banging within.

It certainly doesn't take Wartburg College long to give us ole' freshies a boot on their way out, or so it appeared when the whole freshman class were seen lugging their books in bags, suitcases and make-up kits toward the gym were they were supposed to be checked.

We're not mentioning any names but—some of the freshman boys really looked sharp, particularly one of the young sheiks who came arrayed so much. Personally, I think the girls were really classy the evening we had to have flashy anklets and "heels" along with the accepted purse, gloves, and the latest head styles, including lampshades.

All in all, this will be a week never to be forgotten, especially just about "freshmen week" next year.

FILM SERVICE GROWS RAPIDLY

Wartburg Film Service, which had its inception on the campus of Wartburg College in the fall of 1943, has enjoyed a phenomenal growth and steady expansion. Approximately 300 pastors, living in 26 states and in Canada, are regularly employing the service of this non-profit organization. New members are joining every week.

The Society for Visual Education has recognized Wartburg Film Service as the most promising of all existent organization in the field of religious visual education. It has rated this distinction especially because of its close connections with Wartburg College and Wartburg Seminary. Mr. Griffin, the representative of SVE, has commented:

"You have an ideal location, for educational institutions of the church are the natural centers for the propagation of new methods of religious teaching. You have at your command educators and specialists, who will, as a matter-of-course be intensely interested in the advancement of visual aids."

Wartburg Film Service, the only Lutheran visual aids cooperative in America, is now offering a nation-wide rental service to the pastors of the American Lutheran Church. During the past summer, two branch libraries have been established: one at Toledo, Ohio, the other at Texas Lutheran College, Seguin, Texas. Together with the central library and main office at Wartburg College, the Wartburg Film Service now covers and operates three libraries. The Toledo library serves those living south of a boundary running from St. Louis, Missouri, to San Diego, California. The Waverly library serves those living in the area from Chicago to the Pacific coast, north of St. Louis to San Diego line.

The Service is now the authorized dealer and distributor for the following visual aids producers and manufacturers: Society for Visual Education, Chicago, Illinois; Victor Corporation, Davenport, Iowa; Cathedral Films, Hollywood, Calif.; Cathedral Pictures, St. Louis, Mo.; Christian Films, Fullerton, Calif.; and Bell & Howell, Chicago, Ill.

Wartburg Film Service is owned and operated by the members themselves. Present officers are: Rev. Arnold H. Jahn, president; Dr. John Hiltner, vice president; Rev. Erich Haefner, secretary and editor; Rev. Otto Fengmeyer, treasurer; Rev. C. G. Shalkhauser, director of distribution; Rev. Sig. H. Sandrock, extension director; Rev. Harold C. Kumpf, special representative; Dr. Albert A. Jagnow, Rev. C. H. Becker, Prof. A. Aardal, and Rev. R. A. Vogeley, advisors; and Miss Ann Kristiansen, office secretary.

PHEBES MEET

At the last meeting of the "Phebes" the projects of the parish workers' in the near future were discussed. Chapel services in the girl's dormitory will be conducted by individual members throughout the school year.

The social workers on the campus were invited to become members of the organization.

Each of the girls will give her aid in furthering the religious canvas which is to be made in Waverly, on October 8, under the direction of St. Paul's American Lutheran Church.

The Wartburg Knights won their second Iowa Conference game Friday afternoon by whipping the all-civilian team of Dubuque U., 13-6. The Wartburg boys showed definite improvement over last week's defeat, Don Fallon was not able to play in the contest, because he was called home by his father's sudden death. The Knights were out to win that game for Don and not even the vaunted Spartans could stop their attack. This was the first grid victory for the Knights over the Spartans in the history of the schools.

First Quarter

Dubuque kicked off to Wartburg, and Wignes returned the ball from his own 21. After failing to get moving the Knights kicked, but the punt was partially blocked and the Spartans took over on the Wartburg 36 yard stripe. On the second play the Knights ganged up on the Dubuque runner, and Reyelts quickly pounced on a fumble, the Knights taking over the 38. After several plays Wignes made it first down on the Spartan's 47 on a nice quarterback sneak. On third down an intended pass for Hughes was intercepted by a Dubuque back and he returned it to their own 37. After being stopped cold, the Spartans kicked to Wartburg's 25 where the ball was fumbled and finally recovered by Hughes. With Green and Wignes running the ball on alternate plays, the Knights rolled to Dubuque's 37 yard line. The Knights then completed a pass from Wignes to Hughes on the 25 yard line, and it looked like the Knights were touchdown bound. On the next play an attempted reverse ended with a fumble, and Dubuque recovered on their own 30 yard line. The Knight forward wall again proved too strong for the Spartans, and they kicked to Wartburg's 27. Here the Knights started to roll with Green ably handling the ball-carrying assignments. The Knights were on their own 44 as the first quarter ended with no score.

Second Quarter

The Knights allowed forward to the Dubuque 39 yard line, when the Knight passing combination of Wignes to Hughes was good for a gain. So Dubuque's Al Bill almost evaded all the would-be tacklers, but he was caught by the safety man. On second down Paul Green raced off-tackle and streaked across the goal standing up for the first tally of the game. The extra point was also good as Larry Reyelts, 200 lb. tackle, place-kicked to make the score 7-0.

Wartburg kicked off, and Dubuque received on their own 13. After reeling their own 21 they punted out of bounds on their own 33 because of the strong wind blowing across the field. The Knights were temporarily stopped, but on third down, Hughes, Wartburg's stellar left end, carried the ball on an end-around play and shook loose several Dubuque tacklers to score the second Wartburg touchdown. This time Reyelts' kick was wide, so the Knights led 13-0.

After the kick-off by Wartburg to Dubuque's 15, Schneider returned it to the 37 yard marker. A pass from Sperry to Brooks gave the Spartans a first down on the Knight 45. Another attempted pass was intercepted by Wignes on Wartburg's 16 and returned to the 35. The Knights once more started to drive with Green pacing the attack. The Knights completed another pass from Wignes to Hughes, putting the ball on Dubuque's 44. On the next play Dubuque once more intercepted a pass only to lose the ball several plays later on a pass interception by Wignes. On the first play Green ran around end and reached the Dubuque 15 before being brought down from behind. He again carried the ball to the 4 yard line, but the Knights tried a pass only to have it intercepted by Brooks. The Dubuque boys managed to run off only two plays before the first half ended.

Third Quarter

The second half started as Dubuque kicked off to Wartburg's 12 yard line, and Fenske returned it to the 30. After reaching midfield the Knights kicked out of bounds on Dubuque's 33. On the first play the Spartans were penalized 15 yards for holding that couldn't make up the deficit and they punted to the Knight's 23. Green immediately racked up another first down up to 35. After a punt, Dubuque took the ball on their 45 and Sperry threw a completed pass to Thompson who carried the ball to Wartburg's 32 yard stripe. Dubuque tried another pass but it was intercepted by Hughes on the 15 and he ran it back to the 42. The Knights punted across mid-field and deep into Dubuque territory with alternate passes and running plays. On fourth down an attempted pass was intercepted and the Spartans took over on their own 26 as the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter

The Spartans vainly tried to complete passes on their series of downs so they were forced to kick to Wartburg's 43. The Knights showed signs of tiring and not being able to gain consistently so they punted to the Spartans 30. With Sperry sparking the Dubuque drive the Spartans reached Wartburg's 40 only to kick to Wartburg's 20 on fourth down. Green got off a long punt to Dubuque's 16 yard line, and the Dubuque boys began their touchdown march at this point. After racking up a first down, Schneider faded and tossed a long pass to Johnca, Spartan back, who eluded the Wartburg tacklers and crossed the double stripe for Dubuque's lone marker. An attempted pass for the extra point was no good.

Dubuque kicked off, and the Knights took over on their 35. After making one first down, the game ended with Wartburg still in possession of the ball on the 45.

For Wartburg the line did a bang-up job in stopping the Dubuque backs and especially rushing the passer. Probably the most outstanding of the bunch was Paul Green who played his best game and Bill Hughes who seemed to be all over the field.

For Dubuque, Sperry and Schneider looked best in the backfield, while Pratt and Thompson were outstanding in the line.

Central overpowered the Wartburg Knights in an Iowa Conference game at Waverly Friday night 20-0. The Dutchmen outweighed the Knights in almost all positions, and this weight proved too much of a disadvantage for the fighting Knights.

First Quarter

Wartburg kicked off to the Dutchmen and they returned it from their own 15 to the 37. On a series of spinner plays and reverses Central carried the ball to Wartburg's three yard line. Here the Knight forward wall touchened, and the Knights took over after an incompleted pass on fourth down. Fallon got off a kick from under the goal posts out to the 30. Central completed a short pass to the 22, but the gain was nullified by an offside penalty. After failing to gain, Central punted to the Wartburg 12 yard line. Here the Knight's attack started to roll, and with Paul Green and Fallen carrying the ball they reached the 40 yard line after making two first downs. On third down Wignes, Wartburg's flerkarterback, threw a pass to Bill Hughes who ran the ball to Central's 33 for another first down.

The Knights kept on moving forward pay dirt but fumbled on the 18 yard line only to have it recovered by Central just as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter

Central failed to make the yardage for a first down so they kicked to the Knights' 42 yard line. Again they rolled towards the goal line with a nice pass play from Wignes to Hughes which put the ball on Central's 30 yard line. On third down an attempted pass was caught by Reyelts, Wartburg tackle, and so Wartburg was set back 15 yards for illegal reception of the pass. Fallon kicked again to the Dutchmen's 12 yard line.

Here began the march which eventually ended in a Central touchdown. On the first play, Mark, Central quarterback, ran the ball on the spinner up to the 31. Central's backs continued to plow through the Wartburg defense till they reached midfield. Bonwell, halfback then ran the end for a nice gain to Wartburg's 24 yard marker. The march continued with line smashes and reverses proving too much for the Knights. The drive was terminated when Bonwell, Central's fleet halfback raced across the goal from the five yard line.

The extra point was good as Steward plunged across the double stripe. The Knights received the kickoff, but the half ended several seconds later with the ball on Wartburg's 45.

Third Quarter

The second half opened as Wartburg kicked off to Central and the ball was returned to their own 32. The powerful running attack of the Dutchmen again started to function as they rolled across mid-field and deep into Knight territory with Steward and Bonwell handling the ball carrying assignments. After making five consecutive first downs, Bonwell again raced across the goal for Central's second score. Carlson, Central's fullback, plunged across for the extra point.

Central got off a very bad kickoff and the Wartburg boys took over on their own 36. After gaining consistently to reach Central's 28 yard line, they lost the ball on downs. On the first play Central was penalized back to its 13 yard line for chipping. They punted to mid-field where Wignes fumbled and the fumble was recovered by Central as the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter

With Bonwell again bearing the brunt of the attack, the Dutchmen drove towards Wartburg's goal. They used a short pass mixed with running plays to bring the ball to the 12 yard line. Here Mark faded and threw a good pass to Lowe, the right end, in the end zone for their last tally. The attempted place-kick by Veenstra was wide.

The Knights received the kickoff, with Green returning it to mid-field. Wartburg punted to Central's 25. The Dutchmen managed to travel to Wartburg's 40 but were then penalized 15 yards for holding. After failing to gain ground, Lowe punted into Wartburg's end zone. Wartburg took over on their own 20 and gained one first down before being forced to kick to Central's 30. On the first play Central completed a long pass to Wartburg's 45, but the horn sounded ending the game before another play could be called.

The Central attack was well-balanced and their spinner and reverse plays continuously gained yardage through the Knight forward wall, but the Knights also opened large holes in Central's front line on numerous plays.

For the Dutchmen Bonwell, Steward, Lowe and Peiffer were outstanding while Green, Fallon and Hughes looked very good for the home team.

The loss gave Wartburg a .500 percentage for the season due to their earlier 7-6 win over Upper Iowa.

Well, at last after many years Wartburg can say that they beat Dubuque. Yesterday afternoon the Knight gridders completely outplayed the all-civilian team of Dubuque University. In reality the score should have been larger than it was, but the breaks seemed to be against the boys.

Hats off to Paul Green who did most of the ball-carrying. He showed the drive which was necessary to fill the gap left by Fallon. Stan Wignes did a first rate job of calling signals, besides throwing most of the passes and intercepting several of the Spartan passes. Bill Hughes ran hard on the old end-around play besides catching most of the passes. The line did a swell job and it would be hard to pick out any one in particular, but the boys stood up like a stone wall.

The Dubuque boys were pretty well banged up from their win over Upper Iowa, last week. But they were much the worse for wear after the game on Friday.

The Knights showed considerable improvement after their 20-0 beating by Central two weeks ago. Central outweighed Wartburg quite decisively and this disadvantage proved too much for the Knights. Central was led by Bonwell, who scored two of the touchdowns, and Lowe the right end, both of whom are returned veterans.

The Wartburg team had a lot of support over at Dubuque with quite a few students from college going over, and of course the seminary students were there to cheer the Knights on to victory.

Well, the Knights will be working hard this week in preparation for their Homecoming contest with Luther this next weekend. It should be a close tussle, but we're picking the Knights to come out on top again.

Let's back our boys and have a record attendance for the big Homecoming game on Saturday afternoon.
